If You See, Smell or Hear Natural Gas...

STOP what you are doing

Don't light a match or operate anything that could cause a spark.
Don't open the windows.

LEAVE the area immediately

If you're inside, get out immediately. If you're outside, leave the area quickly.

CALL 911 and Columbia Gas

From a safe location, away from the building, call 911 and 1-800-432-9515 and wait for crews to arrive.

When You Need Help

Extended payment plans

We offer payment plans that can spread your payment of past-due bills over several months. We can also direct you to programs that offer low-income customers help in paying their heating bills.

Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP)

If your total annual household income is within guidelines, you might be eligible to receive financial assistance in paying a portion of your gas bills. The LIHEAP Program provides qualified low-income customers assistance to maintain or restore their gas service during the heating season. Customers can apply for assistance by contacting their local Community Action agency. For a listing of agencies visit www.Capky.org/Network or call 1-800-456-3452.

WinterCare

Customers, employees and shareholders can assist payment-troubled customers who have used up other sources of financial help or who have special hardships. The program is administered by the Community Action Council.

Medical certification notice

We will delay termination of service for non-payment up to 30 days when a physician, registered nurse or public health official completes a medical certification form stating that loss of service would be hazardous to the health of a permanent resident of your home. While the certification does not lower your gas bill, it does give you time to make payment arrangements.

Third-Party notification

You may authorize us to send a copy of notices to a relative, friend, or caregiver so that you don't overlook past-due bills or disconnect notices.

Gas line maintenance

Natural gas is delivered to your home or business through an underground pipeline. While Columbia Gas of Kentucky owns the main lines, service lines, and gas meters, the property owner owns the house lines from the meter up to and inside the home or business.

Proper maintenance of underground piping is important to prevent corrosion and leakage. For your safety, we inspect main lines, service lines and meters for leakage as necessary. If the line is metallic, we also inspect it for corrosion. It's the property owner's responsibility, however, to arrange for inspection and any necessary repair of house lines through a qualified professional, such as a licensed heating/cooling contractor or plumber.

Call before you dig

It's the law! Be sure to contact Kentucky 811 toll-free at 811 at least two full working days before starting any landscape or construction project that involves digging. The free service will notify all utilities to mark the approximate location of buried service lines that might be in the work area. Accidental damage to a natural gas line could cause property damage or personal injury from an explosion, fire, or asphyxiation. Visit Kentucky811.org and learn how to recognize a possible gas leak by smell, sight, or sound and respond appropriately.
